

Consider participating in a research study about genetic testing for X & Y chromosome variations

Make your voice heard. We want to hear your opinions on genetic testing for X & Y chromosome variations and how providers communicate about these variations. If you are interested, click the link below to learn more about the study, and answer a few eligibility questions. If you are eligible, we will contact you to schedule a one-time interview over phone or zoom.

Anyone is eligible to win a $50 Amazon gift card.

<https://redcap.ucsf.edu/surveys/?s=4D34D7L9F48J8M7W>

Recruiting adults with X & Y chromosome variations

Who can participate?

- 18 years or over
- Diagnosis of an X and/or Y variation
- Speak English

What does it mean to participate?

- Short eligibility survey
- 45-60 min. interview over Zoom or phone

Why participate?

- Ensure that voices of people living with X & Y variations are heard
- Contribute to research on an important topic
- We hope that our findings will improve communication & educational materials

Contact student investigator Gabrielle Wright at gabrielle.wright@ucsf.edu or principal investigator Julie Harris-Wai at julie.harris-wai@ucsf.edu if you have more questions.

This proposal has been reviewed by the UCSF Institutional Review Board.